Programs with a published 2027 deadline

29 programs, in order of deadline. "Passed" marks a deadline earlier than November 12, 2026, the date this calendar was generated.

How to read this calendar: Deadlines come from each program's official website, which takes precedence. Grades refer to the student's grade when applying. The eligibility column states citizenship and residency requirements; programs marked "International students eligible" have no status restriction. Application materials, admit data, and official URLs for each program are in the web library.

The 2027 application opens in early January 2027; the deadline has not been announced.

Program	Category	Application timing
AwesomeMath AwesomeMath Summer Program	Math	There are five application rounds, each with its own admission test, and every deadline is 5:00 pm Central Time. The 2026 application opened December 15, 2025, with deadlines of January 14 (early), February 18 (regular round 1), March 25 (regular round 2), April 22 (late round 1) and May 26 (late round 2, final); decisions come within 5 days of each deadline. Dates for 2027 have not been announced.
HCSSiM Hampshire College Summer Studies in Mathematics	Math	There is no official deadline, and decisions are made on a rolling basis. Because of the volume of applications, no new 2026 applications were accepted after 11:59 pm Eastern on April 17, 2026, and the Interesting Test was due by April 25. Dates for 2027 have not been announced.
HSMC Texas State Honors Summer Math Camp	Math	Applications open December 1 each year, with rolling admission until the camp is full and acceptances starting February 15. Fewer places remain after that date and the camp usually fills early, so applying early is encouraged.
Mathcamp Canada/USA Mathcamp	Math	The 2027 application and quiz are expected to be posted in January. For 2026, the application opened January 12 and closed at 11:59 pm Eastern on February 23, with decisions on April 17 and registration due May 4; late applications are not accepted.
MathILy	Math	Rolling admission begins in the spring, with a decision about a week after an application is complete. For 2026, applications received before April 28 received full consideration, and later ones only if space remained. Dates for 2027 have not been announced.
PROMYS Program in Mathematics for Young Scientists	Math	The 2027 application is expected to open in January, with a tentative deadline at the end of February 2027 and decisions at the end of April (both to be confirmed). The 2026 deadline was 11:59 pm Eastern on February 27, 2026, with teacher recommendations due March 3 and financial aid forms due March 15.
Ross Ross Mathematics Program	Math	The 2026 application has closed; the deadline was March 8, with decisions in mid-April. Dates for 2027 have not been announced.
SUMaC Stanford University Mathematics Camp	Math	The 2026 application has closed; the deadline was 11:59 pm Pacific on February 2, 2026, with decisions in mid-April. Financial aid applications were due February 9 and documents February 16. Dates for 2027 have not been announced.

Training camps selected by competition results, with no individual application

Selection for the national team training camps below is decided by results in the corresponding olympiad, so there is no application deadline. Contest schedules are in the academic competitions guide on the website.

MOP (Mathematical Olympiad Program), USABO Finals (USA Biology Olympiad National Finals), USACO Camp (USACO Training Camp), USAPhO Camp (U.S. Physics Team Training Camp), USESO Camp (USA Earth Science Olympiad Training Camp), USNCO Camp (U.S. National Chemistry Olympiad Study Camp)

Programs that are paused or discontinued

- TASS: On September 21, 2026, Telluride Association announced that it will not offer TASS in 2027 while it carries out a full review of the program; one trigger was the early end of the 2026 Ithaca session after a staffing shortfall. No return date has been announced. Students who planned to apply can look at the Stanford Summer Humanities Institute (SHI) or Yale Young Global Scholars (YYGS), both of which charge tuition but offer need-based aid.
- JSA: According to JSA's closure announcement as cited by Wikipedia, JSA announced on August 2, 2024 that it would close and ceased operations on August 31, 2024; the summer school ended with it, and jsa.org no longer resolves. Students interested in government and politics can look at USSYP or California Boys State and Girls State.
- Prove it!: The Prove it! home page says the residential program will not be offered in 2026 and that big changes are in the works to reach a wider audience, with no return date given. According to archived versions of the official site, the last residential session was held in 2018; the 2020 in-person program was cancelled because of COVID-19 and replaced by a free online program, and the site has announced every year since 2021 that the program would not run. Students who want to learn proof writing over the summer can consider the Ross Mathematics Program, PROMYS at Boston University or MathILy in this library.
- HSHSP: Michigan State's HSHSP website says the program will not take place in summer 2026, and an archived copy of the site from November 2024 shows it did not run in 2025 either. No reason or 2027 plan has been announced. Rising seniors looking for a residential research program can consider Texas Tech's Clark Scholars or the University of Florida SSTP, both in this library.
